

FABLE

Q1. Mention two qualities of the Mountain.

A1. The mountain being very big can carry forests on its back and it is also a good place for the squirrel to roam around as expressed in the line “ you make a very pretty squirrel track ;”

Q2. How does the Squirrel justify the coexistence of different things in this universe?

A2. The squirrel acknowledges the huge presence of the mountain but adds that it is only one of the many things that make up the world. All things good and bad, and big and small, taken together, completes the earth , just as all seasons in union comprises of the weather. The mountain may be big ,but it is motionless. On the other hand the squirrel is full of activity. It can break a nut unlike the mountain who again can hold big forests on its surface .

Q3. What is not a disgrace to the Squirrel?

A3. The small space in terms of size that it occupies is not a matter of disgrace to the squirrel.
